Notes to the reader:

All information contained in this book has been carefully checked by the authors and the editorial team. Nevertheless, no guarantee can be given.

The facts can be unclear, especially with historical personalities and fictional characters. We endeavoured to consider these, as carefully as possible; we had to dispense with more detailed comparisons of different (scientific) perspectives in favor of the nature of the game.

The reader is expressly invited to formulate their own interpretation with the help of the available sources and to form their own opinion about the various figures.

We are very grateful for any additional information (email me at promiquiz@gmail.com) about errors of any kind that we can correct.

Rules of the Game

Structure of the Book

On each page, you will find a quiz.

Each quiz contains 15 clues to find a famous person (persona).

“Personas” can be:

- ⇒ Well-known historical personalities (queens, explorers, etc.)
- ⇒ Celebrities, stars and starlets (actors, athletes, etc.)
- ⇒ Famous fictional characters (novel characters, legendary figures, etc.)

All 3 categories are deliberately mixed up.

If fictional characters live in their own (legend or film)

“world”, this world is adopted for the quiz.

The references will become clearer and clearer as you work your way down them.

Where is the answer?

Under every quiz, there is a button that leads to the solution.

The game can be played with almost any number of players at the same time, but it also works very well for solo players.

All clues within the quizzes refer to the persona’s ‘status’ as of April 2020, unless otherwise stated.

Playing the Game with Several Players

Variation 1: All against all (normal game)

Preparation:

You will need to have the following, if accessible: 1 pen, 1 piece of paper, 4 coins and a small bowl per player.

If there are no coins, any items can be used as game pieces (e.g. teaspoons or checkers' pieces).

Likewise, bowls are not absolutely necessary, but they simplify the game and increase the fun. (They can also be replaced with cups or small boxes.)

- ⇒ Each player places their 4 coins and their bowl in front of them.
- ⇒ Each of the players takes a turn to be the game master for one round of the game. A round comprises one page of the book, i.e. 1 quiz.

To the quizzes

Start:

- ⇒ The Game Master checks the solution.
- ⇒ Before the quiz starts, the first game master looks up the “key” with the number under the quiz. They will find the figure they are looking for in the solutions pages at the end of the book, using this number.
- ⇒ The clues are read aloud
Then they begin to read the clues, one by one. (Slowly and clearly and with a 3-4-second pause in between each.)
- ⇒ A player wants to solve the quiz
If a player thinks they know the solution, they toss a coin into their bowl which means: “I want to solve it!”
The Game Master immediately stops reading and the player who tossed the coin gives their solution.
Warning: whoever tosses in the coin must answer. (If no coin is tossed, whatever the player says doesn’t count.)
- ⇒ Correct answer given:
If the figure is guessed correctly, the quiz is solved and the player receives the number of points that are laid out in the point’s table (see above).
- ⇒ Wrong answer given:
*If the player’s solution is wrong, the game continues. Each player can answer 4 times per quiz, i.e. name 4 personas.
(That’s why everyone has 4 coins.) When a player has used their 4 possible answers, they are no longer allowed to guess during this quiz.*

To the quizzes

Distribution of Points

The player who solves the quiz gets points according to the points table (see above).

- ⇒ The points are written down.
- ⇒ After that, the next player, in a clockwise order, becomes the new Game Master, and the game continues as described above.

The winner is the first player to get 40 points.

Alternative calculation method: Each solved puzzle is worth one point. The game is played until one player has reached 3-5 points.

Variation 2: Playing in Teams

The same procedure as for variation 1, only the points that players from a team make are added up to make the team's total.

To the quizzes

Playing solo

You can also play the quizzes very well on your own and “against yourself”.

Here’s how it works:

- ⇒ Read the clues and try to guess the persona you are looking for.
- ⇒ Give yourself points and write them down at the bottom of each page. (At the beginning of each puzzle, you will have 15 points to start with. For each clue you need to read, you deduct one point. For example, if you solve a puzzle on the fifth clue, you get 10 points.  $[15-5 = 10]$ ) For an unsolved quiz, you get 5 minus points.
- ⇒ Add up your score at the end of the book.

The same guessing rules apply here: You can guess 4 times per quiz. So if you have already guessed 4 names without the correct answer, you get 5 minus points for the quiz. You’ll find the solution button under every puzzle.
